PASSPORT ISSUED | AGES 13-15

Welcome to Your 7-Day Real-World Passport

7

7 missions | 10-15 minutes a day | 3-5 minute parent review

A note for parents

Thank you for investing in your teenager's independence. This workbook is a tool for guided practice and conversation. It is not school homework, and it is not an exam. There are no grades, no passing marks, and no wrong answers. Your role is light but meaningful: spend about 3-5 minutes each day listening, asking, and encouraging. Teens build confidence when they feel trusted, so let them try, stumble a little, and try again.

A note for teens

This is your passport to doing more things on your own. Each day you do one small real-world challenge, write a quick reflection, and chat with a parent or guardian about how it went. No one is judging you. The goal is simply to practice and notice how much you can already do.

The 3-step daily routine

1. Teen Mission | 10-15 minutes
   Complete the daily real-world challenge independently.
2. Reflection | 2 minutes
   Answer the daily reflection prompt in your own words.
3. Parent Review | 3 minutes
   Talk through the task together and tick the 4-point Independence Scale (see page 9).

My Passport Stamps

Press a stamp, sticker, or colour in a circle after each completed mission.

1 DAY | 2 DAY | 3 DAY | 4 DAY | 5 DAY | 6 DAY | 7 DAY

Tip: Pick a consistent time each day, such as after dinner or after school snacks, so the routine becomes a habit.

My name: _____ Start date: _____

DAY 1 | MONEY MANAGEMENT

Needs vs. Wants Audit

1

10 minutes | Notebook & pen

Why it matters

Recognizing the difference between essential spending and discretionary choices is the foundation of financial control.

Your mission

Look at your pocket money or recent spending and purchases from the past month. List 3 items that were absolute necessities and 3 items that were purely optional "wants."

Completion evidence: A bulleted list of 3 Needs and 3 Wants.

My 3 Needs	My 3 Wants
1. _____	1. _____
2. _____	2. _____
3. _____	3. _____

Reflection

What is one "want" you could skip next week to start saving for a bigger personal goal?

_____

_____

_____

Parent's role

Listen without judging past purchases. Share one simple "need vs. want" decision from your own budget this week.

Parent review: how much support was needed? (tick one)

1	2	3	4
Needed substantial guidance	Needed some guidance	Completed independently	Completed independently and explained the reasoning

DAY 2 | COMMUNICATION

The Active Listener Challenge

2

10 minutes | None

Why it matters

Good communication begins with listening to understand, rather than just listening to reply.

Your mission

During a 10-minute conversation with a family member today, practice "mirroring." Repeat or paraphrase their key point before sharing your own opinion. For example: "So what you're saying is..."

Completion evidence: A short sentence summarizing what you learned during the conversation.

What I learned from the conversation:

Reflection

Was it easy or hard to wait for the other person to finish before speaking? Why?

Parent's role

Act as a conversational partner. Give honest feedback on how heard and understood you felt.

DAY 3 | CRITICAL THINKING & MEDIA LITERACY

Fact vs. Ad Verification

3

15 minutes | Smartphone or magazine

Why it matters

Social media ads and online claims are designed to persuade rather than inform.

Your mission

Pick an online advertisement or sponsored post you saw today. Identify 1 factual statement made versus 1 emotional appeal or sales tactic used.

Completion evidence: Written comparison of the 1 Fact vs. 1 Sales Appeal.

1 Fact the ad stated	1 Emotional appeal or sales tactic

Reflection

How did this advertisement try to make you feel in order to buy the product?

Parent's role

Ask guiding questions about how marketing tactics work without giving away all the answers. For example: "Who made this, and what do they want you to do?"

DAY 4 | EMOTIONAL REGULATION

The 2-Minute Cooling-Off Rule

4

10 minutes | Paper & pen

Why it matters

Feeling angry or frustrated is normal. Learning how to pause before reacting is a key life skill.

Your mission

Design a personal "Cooling-Off Strategy" to use when you feel frustrated. Ideas: take 5 deep breaths, step away for 2 minutes, or listen to one song.

Completion evidence: A written 2-minute cooling-off plan.

When I notice (my warning sign): _____

I will step away to: _____

For 2 minutes, I will: _____

Then I will come back and: _____

Reflection

What physical early-warning signs tell you that you are starting to feel frustrated?

_____

_____

_____

Parent's role

Validate that feeling angry is acceptable, and share what strategy you personally use when stressed.

DAY 5 | DIGITAL SAFETY

Digital Footprint & Password Security Audit

5

15 minutes | Phone or laptop

Why it matters

Protecting personal data and maintaining secure accounts prevents online scams and privacy issues.

Your mission

Review 2 online accounts or device passwords. Verify whether they follow strong password rules (8+ characters, a mix of letters, symbols, and numbers) and check notification and privacy settings.

Completion evidence: A completed digital security checklist.

Tick the box for Yes. Never write the actual password.

Check	Account: _____	Account: _____
Password is 8+ characters	☐	☐
Includes symbols and numbers	☐	☐
Different from my other passwords	☐	☐
Privacy settings reviewed	☐	☐
Notification settings reviewed	☐	☐

Reflection

Why is sharing an OTP (One-Time Password) with anyone a serious risk?

Parent's role

Make sure no actual passwords are shown or shared. Review basic UPI and OTP safety rules together.

DAY 6 | HOUSEHOLD INDEPENDENCE

Independent Meal Preparation

6

20 minutes | Basic kitchen ingredients

Why it matters

Preparing a simple meal or snack independently builds everyday self-reliance in the kitchen.

Your mission

Prepare a simple, age-appropriate breakfast, snack, or drink (for example eggs, oats, a sandwich, tea, or poha) for yourself or a family member, and clean up the workspace afterward.

Completion evidence: A clean kitchen counter and a served meal or snack.

What I made: _____

- [ ] I served the meal or snack.
- [ ] The kitchen counter is clean.

Reflection

What was the most challenging part of preparing and cleaning up after your meal?

_____

_____

_____

Parent's role

Ensure safety supervision around stoves and knives. Let your teen take full ownership of the process.

DAY 7 | REFLECTION

Weekly Progress Review & Family Celebration

7

15 minutes | Completed sampler pages

Why it matters

Noticing growth and reflecting on practical learning reinforces positive habits and self-confidence.

Your mission

Review your completed missions from Days 1 to 6. Fill out the 7-Day Sampler Passport Reflection below.

Completion evidence: A completed 7-Day Sampler Passport Reflection page.

DAY	SKILL	SCORE	ONE THING I'M PROUD OF
1	Money Management	☐
2	Communication	☐
3	Media Literacy	☐
4	Emotional Regulation	☐
5	Digital Safety	☐
6	Household Independence	☐

The mission I enjoyed most: _____

The skill I want to keep practicing: _____

One goal for next week: _____

Reflection

Which skill do you feel most confident practicing on your own now?

Parent's role

Celebrate your teen's effort! Discuss which mission was the most enjoyable or useful.

Family celebration idea: Mark the finish together with a favorite snack, a walk, or a family game night. Celebrating effort builds motivation more than celebrating results.

PARENT GUIDE

Parent Review Rubric & Independence Scale

Use after every mission

Use this scale after each daily mission. It also appears in short form on every day page, so you can tick it right where the work is.

1	Needed substantial guidance
2	Needed some guidance
3	Completed independently
4	Completed independently and explained the reasoning

Parent note: A higher rating simply means less support was needed for that specific task, not that your child is "better" or "worse." Celebrate effort and consistency!

Three conversation starters for your 3-minute review

- "Walk me through what you did first."
- "What surprised you about this one?"
- "What would you do differently next time?"

WHAT'S NEXT

What's Next? The 90-Day Journey

Keep the momentum going

Congratulations on completing your 7-Day Real-World Passport! In one short week, your teen has practiced seven skills that many people only learn by trial and error as adults. Small daily habits, repeated over time, are what turn these experiments into real independence.

These seven days are a taste of the complete 90-Day Growing Up Passport, a structured daily program that builds confidence step by step through real-world practice. The full edition goes deeper into:

Money

Budgeting, saving goals, and smart spending

Resilience

Handling setbacks, stress, and change

Time Management

Planning, prioritizing, and following through

Leadership

Responsibility, teamwork, and speaking up

Families who want to keep the momentum going are warmly invited to continue with the full 90-Day Edition.

Thank you for growing together.
